HANDGUNS:

- Upon expiration of the court’s Restraining Order, you may submit the Department of Justice form Law Enforcement Gun Release Application (not included in this packet) to the Department of Justice in order to obtain an Eligibility to Possess Firearm Clearance form to retrieve your firearm.
 - The Department of Justice form Law Enforcement Gun Release Application can be obtained from the Sheriff’s Office and/or on-line at www.ag.ca.gov/firearms/forms
- Present a current Eligibility to Possess Firearm Clearance form from the Department of Justice to the Sheriff’s Office. The form is “current” for 30 days after it is issued.
 - A storage fee will be due to Sheriff’s Office at the time you retrieve your firearm.
 - 180 days after expiration of your restraining order the Sheriff’s Office may destroy your firearm if you do not claim it.

LONG-GUNS:

- Upon expiration of the court’s Restraining Order, it is your responsibility to present proof of ownership of the firearm to the Sheriff’s Office. The Sheriff’s Office will determine if you are the lawful owner of the firearm. (An approved Law Enforcement Gun Release Application DOES NOT constitute proof of ownership, it merely establishes the applicant is eligible to possess a firearm.)
 - A storage fee will be due to Sheriff’s Office at the time you retrieve your firearm.
 - 180 days after expiration of your restraining order the Sheriff’s Office may destroy your firearm if you do not claim it.
